COLLECTIVE & CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT AND JURY TRIAL DEMAND

Plaintiffs BAO CHENG FU ("Fu") and GUANG LI ZHANG ("Zhang") on their own behalf and on behalf of all others similarly situated, by and through their undersigned attorneys, Hang & Associates, PLLC, hereby file this complaint against the Defendants MEE MAY CORP., JIANG QING CHEN ("Chen"), KUANG CHI WU, John Doe and Jane Doe # 1-10 ("Does") (collectively "Defendants"), allege and show the Court the following:

INTRODUCTION

1. This is an action brought by Plaintiffs on their own behalf and on behalf of similarly situated employees, alleging violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. § 201 et seq. ("FLSA") and the New York Labor Law, arising from Defendants' various willful and unlawful employment policies, patterns and/or practices.

2. Upon information and belief, Defendants have willfully and intentionally committed widespread violations of the FLSA and NYLL by engaging in a pattern and practice of failing to pay their employees, including Plaintiffs, compensation for all hours worked, minimum wage, and overtime compensation for all hours worked over forty (40) each workweek.

3. Plaintiffs allege pursuant to the FLSA, that they are entitled to recover from the Defendants: (1) unpaid wages and minimum wages, (2) unpaid overtime wages, (3) reimbursement for expenses relating to tools of the trade (4) liquidated damages, (5) prejudgment and post-judgment interest; and (6) attorneys' fees and costs.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

19. Defendants committed the following alleged acts knowingly, intentionally and willfully.

20. Defendants knew that the nonpayment of minimum wage, overtime pay, spread of hours pay, and failure to provide the required wage notice at the time of hiring would financially injure Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees and violate state and federal laws.

21. From August 9, 2013 to February 13, 2015 Plaintiff Fu was hired by Defendants to work as deliveryman for Defendants' restaurant located at 922 2nd Avenue, New York, New York 10019.

22. From August 9, 2013 to September 2014, Plaintiff Fu worked from 10:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. on Monday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday and from 6:30 p.m. to 10:45 p.m., on Wednesday and Saturday and Plaintiff Fu worked at least forty nine (49) hours a week.

23. From October 2014 to February 13, 2015, Plaintiff worked 10:30 am to 8:30 pm on Monday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday and from 6:30 pm to 10:45 pm on Wednesday. Plaintiff Fu took one day off each week on Tuesday, and Plaintiff worked at least fifty five (55) hours per week.

24. During the relevant period, Plaintiff Fu was paid a flat rate of $160 - $200 per week in cash.

25. February 13, 2015 until the present, Plaintiff Zhang has been hired by Defendants to work as deliveryman for Defendants' restaurant located at 922 2nd Avenue, New York, New York 10019.

26. From February 13, 2015 until the present, Plaintiff Zhang has worked the following schedule: Monday from 10:30 a.m. to 9:30 pm, Tuesday from 11:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., Wednesday from 12:00 p.m. to 10:45 p.m., Friday from 6:30 p.m. to 10:45 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 10:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Plaintiff Zhang worked approximately fifty-five (55) hours per day.

27. During the relevant period, Plaintiff Zhang was paid a flat rate ranging between $160 and $200 per week in cash.

28. Defendants required Plaintiffs Fu and Zhang to sign falsified time records, indicating shorter hours that Plaintiff actually worked, and which recorded breaks which Plaintiffs Zhang did not and were not permitted to take. Upon information and belief, Defendants required Plaintiffs to sign these falsified records in order to appear to be in compliance with the FLSA and NYLL, while willfully violating their obligations under the law.

29. Defendants did not compensate Plaintiffs for minimum wage or overtime compensation according to state and federal laws.

30. Plaintiffs were not compensated for New York's "spread of hours" premium for shifts that lasted longer than ten (10) hours, one day each week.

31. Defendants did not provide Plaintiffs with a wage notices at the time of their hiring.

32. The applicable minimum wage for the period of August 9, 2013 through December 30, 2013 was $7.25 per hour.

33. The applicable minimum wage for the period of December 31, 2013 to December 31, 2014 is $8.00 per hour.

34. The applicable minimum wage for the period of December 31, 2015 to the present is $8.75 per hour.

35. Defendants committed the following alleged acts knowingly, intentionally and willfully.

36. Defendants knew that the nonpayment of overtime and the “spread of hours” premium would economically injure Plaintiffs and the Class Members by their violation of federal and state laws.

37. While employed by Defendants, Plaintiffs were not exempt under federal and state laws requiring employers to pay employees overtime.

38. Plaintiffs and the New York Class Members’ workdays frequently lasted longer than 10 hours.

39. Defendants did not pay Plaintiffs and other Class members’ New York’s “spread of hours” premium for every day in which they worked over 10 hours.

40. Defendants did not provide Plaintiffs and other Class members with written notices about the terms and conditions of their employment upon hire in relation to their rate of pay, regular pay cycle and rate of overtime pay. These notices were similarly not provided upon Plaintiffs’ and other Class members’ pay increase(s).

41. Under the FLSA, the Plaintiffs are entitled to a credit for expenses for tools of trade.

42. The governing test regarding the “tools of the trade” is stated in the pertinent Department of Labor regulations: “if it is a requirement of the employer that the employee must provide tools of the trade which will be used in or are specifically required for the performance of the employer’s particular work, there would be a violation of the Act in any workweek when the cost of such tools purchased by the employee cuts into the minimum or overtime wages required to be paid him under the Act” 29 C.F.R. § 531.35.

43. Defendants knowingly and willfully operated their business with a policy of not reimbursing Plaintiffs for expenses incurred in relation to tools of the trade used by Plaintiff in order to deliver food to customers of Defendants. Specifically, Plaintiff Zhang was required to spend $1,500 on a bicycle in order to perform deliveries. Both Plaintiffs spent $150 per month on maintenance and related expenses in order to deliver food to the Defendants' customers.

44. Defendants committed the foregoing acts against the Plaintiffs, the FLSA Collective Plaintiffs, and the Class.

COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

45. Defendants knowingly and willfully operated their business with a policy of not paying either the FLSA minimum wage or the New York State minimum wage to Plaintiffs or other similarly situated employees.

46. Defendants knowingly and willfully operated their business with a policy of not paying Plaintiffs and other similarly situated employees either the FLSA overtime rate (of time and one-half), or the New York State overtime rate (of time and one-half), in violation of the FLSA and New York Labor Law and the supporting federal and New York State Department of Labor Regulations.

47. Defendants knowingly and willfully operated their business with a policy of not paying the New York State "spread of hours" premium to Plaintiffs and other similarly situated employees.

48. Plaintiffs bring this action individually and on behalf of all other and former non-exempt employees who have been or were employed by the Defendants at each of their three restaurant locations for up to the last three (3) years, through entry of judgment in this case (the "Collective Action Period") and whom failed to receive minimum wages, spread-of-hours pay, overtime compensation for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week (the "Collective Action Members"), and have been subject to the same common decision, policy, and plan to not provide required wage notices at the time of hiring, in contravention to federal and state labor laws.

49. Upon information and belief, the Collective Action Members are so numerous the joinder of all members is impracticable. The identity and precise number of such persons are unknown, and the facts upon which the calculations of that number may be ascertained are presently within the sole control of the Defendants. Upon information and belief, there are more than twenty (20) Collective Action members, who have worked for or have continued to work for the Defendants during the Collective Action Period, most of whom would not likely file individual suits because they fear retaliation, lack adequate financial resources, access to attorneys, or knowledge of their claims. Therefore, Plaintiffs submit that this case should be certified as a collection action under the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. §216(b).

50. Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Collective Action Members, and have retained counsel that is experienced and competent in the field of employment law and class action litigation. Plaintiffs have no interests that are contrary to or in conflict with those members of this collective action.

51. This action should be certified as collective action because the prosecution of separate action by individual members of the collective action would risk creating either inconsistent or varying adjudication with respect to individual members of this class that would as a practical matter be dispositive of the interest of the other members not party to the adjudication, or subsequently impair or impede their ability to protect their interests.

52. A collective action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy, since joinder of all members is impracticable. Furthermore, inasmuch as the damages suffered by individual Collective Action Members may be relatively small, the expense and burden of individual litigation makes it virtually impossible for the members of the collective action to individually seek redress for the wrongs done to them. There will be no difficulty in the management of this action as collective action.

53. Questions of law and fact common to members of the collective action predominate over questions that may affect only individual members because Defendants have acted on grounds generally applicable to all members. Among the questions of fact common to Plaintiffs and other Collective Action Members are:

- a. Whether the Defendants employed Collective Action members within the meaning of the FLSA;
- b. Whether the Defendants failed to pay the Collective Action Members the minimum wage in violation of the FLSA and the regulations promulgated thereunder;
- c. Whether the Defendants failed to pay the Collective Action Members overtime wages for all hours worked above forty (40) each workweek in violation of the FLSA and the regulation promulgated thereunder;
- d. Whether the Defendants failed to pay the Collective Action Members spread of hours payment for each day an employee worked over 10 hours;
- e. Whether the Defendants failed to provide the Collective Action Members with a wage notice at the time of hiring as required by the NYLL;
- f. Whether the Defendants' violations of the FLSA are willful as that terms is used within the context of the FLSA; and,
- g. Whether the Defendants are liable for all damages claimed hereunder, including but not limited to compensatory, punitive, and statutory damages, interest, costs and disbursements and attorneys' fees.

54. Plaintiffs know of no difficulty that will be encountered in the management of this litigation that would preclude its maintenance as a collective action.

55. Plaintiffs and others similarly situated have been substantially damaged by Defendants' unlawful conduct.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

56. Plaintiffs bring their NYLL claims pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("F. R. C. P.") Rule 23, on behalf of all non-exempt persons employed by Defendants at each of their three restaurant locations doing business as Mee Noodle Shop & Grill on or after the date that is six years before the filing of the Complaint in this case as defined herein (the "Class Period").

57. All said persons, including Plaintiffs, are referred to herein as the "Class." The Class members are readily ascertainable. The number and identity of the Class members are determinable from the records of Defendants. The hours assigned and worked, the positions held, and the rate of pay for each Class Member is also determinable from Defendants' records. For purpose of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from Defendants. Notice can be provided by means permissible under said F.R.C.P 23.

58. The proposed Class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, and the disposition of their claims as a class will benefit the parties and the Court. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown, and the facts on which the calculation of the number is presently within the sole control of the Defendants, upon information and belief, there are more than twenty (20) members of the class.

59. Plaintiffs' claims are typical of those claims which could be alleged by any member of the Class, and the relief sought is typical of the relief that would be sought by each member of the Class in separate actions. All the Class members were subject to the same corporate practices of Defendants, as alleged herein, of failing to pay minimum wage, and overtime compensation. Defendants' corporation wide policies and practices, including but not limited to their failure to provide a wage notice at the time of hiring, affected all Class members similarly, and Defendants benefited from the same type of unfair and/ or wrongful acts as to each Class member. Plaintiffs and other Class members sustained similar losses, injuries and damages arising from the same unlawful policies, practices and procedures.

60. Plaintiffs are able to fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class and has no interests antagonistic to the Class. Plaintiffs are represented by attorneys who are experienced and competent in representing plaintiffs in both class action and wage and hour employment litigation cases.

61. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy, particularly in the context of wage and hour litigation where individual Class members lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute corporate defendants. Class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and without the unnecessary duplication of efforts and expenses that numerous individual actions engender. The losses, injuries, and damages suffered by each of the individual Class members are small in the sense pertinent to a class action analysis, thus the expenses and burden of individual litigation would make it extremely difficult or impossible for the individual Class members to redress the wrongs done to them. Further, important public interests will be served by addressing the matter as a class action. The adjudication of individual litigation claims would result in a great expenditure of Court and public resources; however, treating the claims as a class action would result in a significant saving of these costs. The prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Class would create a risk of inconsistent and/or varying adjudications with respect to the individual members of the Class, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendants and resulting in the impairment of class members' rights and the disposition of their interests through actions to which they were not parties. The issues in this action can be decided by means of common, class-wide proof. In addition, if appropriate, the Court can, and is empowered to, fashion methods to efficiently manage this action as a class action.

62. Upon information and belief, defendants and other employers throughout the state violate the New York Labor Law. Current employees are often afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect retaliation. Former employees are fearful of bringing claims because doing so can harm their employment, future employment, and future efforts to secure employment. Class actions provide class members who are not named in the complaint a degree of anonymity which allows for the vindication of their rights while eliminating or reducing these risks.

63. There are questions of law and fact common to the Class which predominate over any questions affecting only individual class members, including:

- a. Whether Defendants employed Plaintiffs and the Class within the meaning of the New York law;
- b. Whether Defendants paid Plaintiffs and Class members the New York minimum wage for all hours worked;
- c. Whether Plaintiffs and Class members are entitled to overtime under the New York Labor Law;

- d. Whether Defendants maintained a policy, pattern and/or practice of failing to pay Plaintiff and the Rule 23 Class spread-of-hours pay as required by the NYLL;
- e. Whether the Defendants provided wage notices at the time of hiring to Plaintiffs and class members as required by the NYLL;
- g. At what common rate, or rates subject to common method of calculation were and are the Defendants required to pay the Class members for their work
